publications council

The primary function of the Publications council is to supervise the publication of the Albionian, Pleiad and the Campus Directory. It also directs the editorial and financial policies and the staffs for these student publications.

The student members, elected by popular vote of the student body, and the faculty members, appointed by the administration, elect the editor, managing editor and business manager of the Pleiad, and the editor, associate editor and business manager of the Albionian.

The officers this year were Molly Engle, president; Mr. Anthony Taffs, vice-president; George Benko, secretary, and Dr. Joseph J. Irwin, treasurer. Other members were John Gilbert and Virginia Valentine.

The council is the representative governing body of the Publications Association which is made up of all students, faculty and trustees of the college. It is organized as a non-profit corporation. Funds for the operation of the publications are derived from student fees and from advertising and subscriptions sold.

alpha phi gamma

Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalistic fraternity, serves and promotes the welfare of the college through journalism and establishes cordial relationships between the students and members of the profession. Members are chosen on the basis of individual ability and achievement in journalistic pursuits in college and universities, by the members of the previous chapter.

Although the group carries on no campus activities, it serves to promote a greater interest in journalism among the students and encourages better publications. The faculty advisor is Dr. Joseph J. Irwin, professor of English and journalism. Mr. Paul R. Trautman is also a member.

Nationally Alpha Phi Gamma has achieved distinction through its consistent adherence to the honorary basis. It has kept rigidly to its collegiate limitations and has thus retained its individuality and high standards. It goes outside the college circle to give special honorary membership to men and women of mark and distinction in journalism.

Polly Arbaugh, editor-in-chief, headed the staff of the Albionian this year. She was aided by Gail Gorenflo, associate editor; Jack McCall, business manager; Virginia Valentine, senior editor; Duane Poole, sports editor, Patricia Roe, art editor, and staff members chosen from interested students in the news writing and news editing classes. Dr. Joseph J. Irwin served as business advisor and Mr. Anthony Taffs as editorial advisor to the book, while the Publications council supervised plans and policy.

Work started nearly a year ago, when editors began planning the layout and design of the book. The first job of the school year was to photograph individuals for class pictures, and to photograph the various campus organizations. Each organization and student pays for pictures, which, combined with advertising funds, and an allotted budget from the college, pays the cost of the book.

When photography is finished, copywriters and copy-readers begin to work, writing identifications and stories.

By the middle of March copy begins going to the printer. Engraving proofs and copy proofs are combined to make a dummy, from which the book is printed. The cover design is created in the fall, and is to be ready by early May, when the book is sent to the binders to be trimmed and bound. Late May or early June sees the completion and distribution of the Albionian.

Appearing weekly, the Albion College Pleiad is a student publication, containing news and features of campus and town events of interest to Albion students. Editor-in-chief this year was Ann Neffner. Carol Poosch served as managing editor, while Anna Hill and Marilyn Corey filled desk editor positions. James Martin was the business manager and John Brundage sports editor. Faculty advisor was Mr. Anthony Taffs, and Dr. Joseph J. Irwin was business advisor.

Ann Neffner, editor-in-chief.

Work each week began on Monday afternoon as the editors and advisors met to discuss and plan the issue. Students from the news writing and news editing classes were assigned a different "beat" each week, and began collecting and writing news to be handed in Tuesday afternoon.

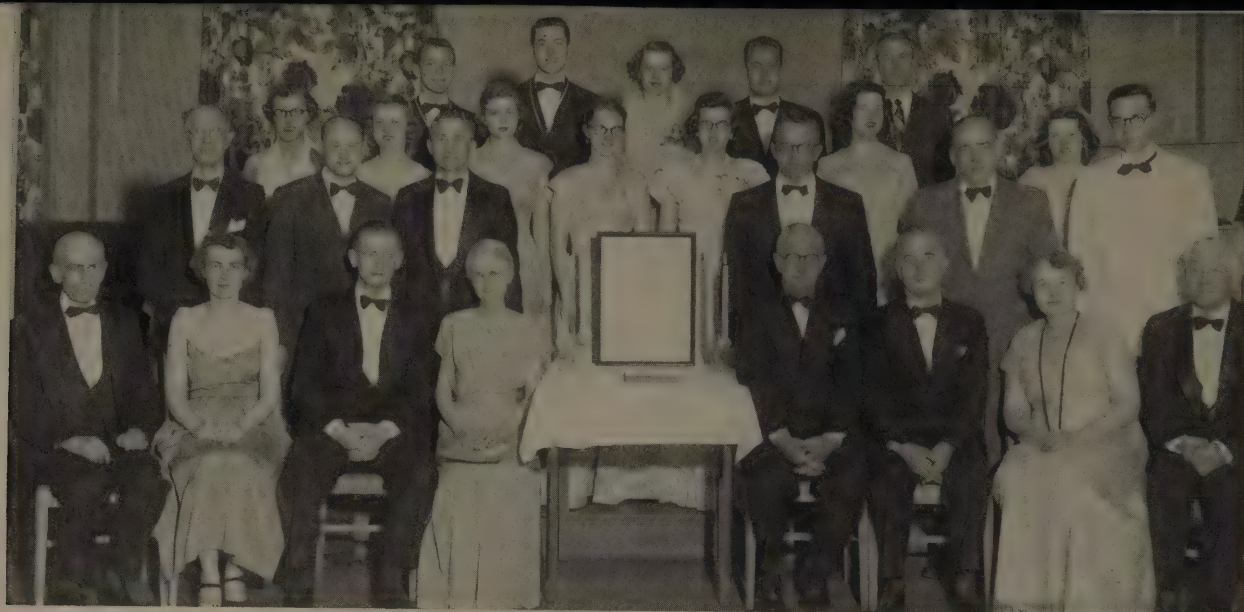

On Tuesday evenings the staff and copyreaders from the class worked in the Pleiad office writing headlines and checking copy, while the editor planned the layout and lead stories. The same procedure was followed on Wednesday evenings, completing the gathering and processing of news.

Supervising the setting and correcting proofs of the Pleiad were done by editor and managing editor on Thursday afternoons. The finished product, often "hot from the press" was waiting for Albion students, for no cost Friday noon.

Some of the regularly included items in the Pleiad are editorials, and letters to the editor, Much Ado, a humorous column composed of contributed items from students and staff, a Sports Slants column, interpreting and predicting news to come, and coverage of all campus activities.

phi beta kappa

Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest and most distinguished of the national honorary scholastic societies, founded in 1776. Michigan's Beta chapter was established at Albion college on November 8, 1940. Members-in-course are elected yearly, primarily on the basis of broad cultural interests and scholarly achievements. Only those students are eligible for election who have completed, at the end of the election year, their last two years of work at Albion college.

A minimum grade-point average of 2.4 must have been obtained to warrant consideration, but attainment of this or a higher average may not be interpreted as automatically sufficient for election. A restricted number of alumni and honorary memberships are extended to persons who have achieved scholarly distinction since graduation from college.

Officers this year were Dr. J. V. Garland, president; Dr. Sheila Kragness, vice-president and Mr. David D. Morris, secretary-treasurer.

mortar board

Character, scholarship, leadership and service in campus life are the basis upon which women are selected for Mortar Board, national women's honorary society. This organization, in which no less than five and no more than 20 members may be chosen, tapped the eight most outstanding senior women last year.

The elected officers include Jean Tomion, president; Loris Porter, vice-president; Jean Marcy, secretary; Joyce Dusendorf, treasurer; Virginia Wyman, historian and Ann Neffner, editor. Playing host for the Michigan Mortar Board convention, selling Christmas cards, giving the Homecoming alumnae coffee hour, a scholarship dinner, sponsoring a guest speaker in the spring, serving at senior reception and ushering at Commencement were some of the Mortar Board activities for this year. Mrs. Clara Dixon, Mrs. Joseph J. Irwin and Miss Audrey K. Wilder served as sponsors.

On the basis of scholarship, citizenship, leadership, service and cooperation in academic and extracurricular activities, 17 senior men and women were selected to represent Albion college in the 1952-'53 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

These students were selected by the Dean and the Student council according to promise of future usefulness to business and society. This group carries on no campus activities, its main purpose being to give recognition to those students who have accomplished and benefited the most in their four years of college.

omicron delta kappa

Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's leadership honor society, has as its purpose to recognize men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in college activities, to inspire others along similar lines, to bring together in mutual interest the most representative men in all phases of college life and to unite in fellowship members of the faculty and student body on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

Men are elected from the junior and senior classes on the basis of outstanding position in one of the following six phases of campus life: athletics, dramatic arts, music, scholarship, social and religious organizations or speech and publications. Officers during the last year were Don Baker, president; Melvin Larimer, vice-president; Mr. E. Maynard Aris, secretary, and Norman Keehn, treasurer.

Furnishing efficient and adequate leadership in the direction of all student activities, considering all-campus problems, and promoting the welfare of the student body, the Student council was headed this year by Ralph Boe, president. Other officers included James Davis, vice-president; Donna Kay, secretary; and Prosser Watts, treasurer. Dr. Thomas M. Carter acted as advisor.

The council, which meets every Wednesday evening, is represented by every campus group and has twelve working committees covering all campus needs, as well as sponsoring all-school social activities, planning Bust Outs and Big Three week-end activities.

A special Baldwin Hall committee was formed this year, to deal with the problems of the new student center. The council also sponsored a bridge tournament, raised funds for a Kalamazoo college athletic stricken with polio, and sponsored the annual TB drive on campus.

campus religious council

The purpose of the Campus Religious council is to promote religious thinking and coordinate religious activities on the campus. The activities of the council this year included sponsoring several forums, one of which included Dr. Gerard Priestly, discussing the United Nations; observance of the "Universal Day of Prayer for Students;" a World Student Service Fund campaign in the spring; Christmas and Easter candlelight services, and two religious emphasis weeks.

"Religion Is Life Week," November 14-20, was planned to include each student, and was conducted entirely by students and faculty. The spring religious emphasis week, May 11-12, featured the application of religion in various occupations.

This year's officers were Jean Tomion, president; Donald Baker, vice-president; Jean Marcy, secretary, and Alan Swan, treasurer. Dr. John Cheek, Dr. Wayne Fleenor, Dr. Paul Carnell and Mr. E. Maynard Aris were the advisors to the group.

AWS board

Directing the activities of the dormitory and the annexes, the AWS board serves as a self-governing body for the women of Albion college. The Christmas breakfast, the leadership dinner, Big Three week-end activities, birthday dinners, Thursday afternoon teas, and special Wednesday night dinners were planned by committees appointed by the board.

This year semi-formal, instead of formal, attire was substituted for the monthly birthday dinners, and Sunday afternoon formal teas were initiated into the schedule of activities planned by the board. Magazines and newspapers for the women students were also purchased.

Executive officers were Barbara Lindblom, president; Carole Hedstrom, vice-president; Hildegard Beck, secretary, and Jacqueline Dunham, treasurer. Officers are nominated by a committee made up of an elected representative from each class, and by the existing AWS board. All women in the dormitory system participate in the election. Mrs. Alberta Sudbrink and Miss Audrey K. Wilder were advisors to the group.

seaton hall committee

Forming dormitory policies, planning social functions, and spending allotted money are the activities of the governing body of Seaton hall. This committee, composed of the house officers and floor representatives, was headed by Daniel Dewey, president.

This year they sponsored a hay-ride in the fall, and a Friday night dance and party after one of the college plays. Several inter-dormitory social events were also scheduled during the year.

Other officers for this year were Alden Burns, vice-president; David Martin, secretary, and Charles Fitzgerald, treasurer. Mr. Leon M. Gordon acted as advisor to the committee. Second semester officers were Dewey, president; Tom Brown, vice-president; John Cansfield, secretary, and Richard Kemp, treasurer.

Led by Earl Poleski, president, the year's Alpha Tau Omega activities began with the annual Blackfoot-Whitefoot formal dance with Sigma Nu, November 22, at the Jackson County building. A costume party followed next on the schedule. Club Alpha Tau featured the sands and palm trees of the mysterious south sea islands, while a band provided music.

Wearing dark suits and red shoe string bow ties, the ATO quartet won second place in the annual quartet sing. The quartet, John Hookey, Melvin Larimer, Willard Meader and Neal Singles sang "Sweet Lorraine" and "Way Down Yonder."

A conclave for the five Michigan chapters of Alpha Tau Omega took place in Albion, May 23. Athletic events including all sports contested intramurally were awarded with trophies, and with an all-sports trophy. The evening was concluded with a dance in Baldwin hall.

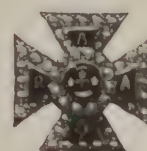

Substituting Help Week for Hell Week, in the fall the ATO's made their project the complete exterior painting of a home in Albion, where illness had prevented its being painted previously. The fraternity plans to continue this policy of social service. Winter Hell week saw the redecorating of the chapter's house, dining room, hall and kitchen.

Other officers for the year were Donald Holbrook, vice-president; Ralph Boe, secretary, and James Richardson, treasurer.

New officers are Leonard Shurmur, president; Richard Reinhard, vice-president; James Martin, treasurer; Cameron Ambler, historian; Glenn McFarland, secretary.

A ferocious pink, fire-breathing dragon with green spots captured two trophies for the Delta Sigma Phi's this year at Homecoming time. St. George, complete with sword and short, swishing knight's costume, challenged him at every turn. The group won the cup for the best fraternity float in the parade and a trophy for the best float in the entire Homecoming parade.

Leading off the social activities for the year was a modern counterpart of Aladdin's genie, who turned the house into a scene from old Bagdad, for the annual winter costume party. For the next event we found quaint costumed sailors taking over at the annual Sailor's ball. The entire chapter attended a conclave of Michigan chapters of Delta Sigma Phi, at Ypsilanti November 9, to install a new chapter.

Following the sorority Song Fest, the chapter entertained the winning sorority at a Saturday open house. Spring activities included a Parents' week end in May, featuring field day festivities and the Coronation Ball at which the chapter chose a sweetheart.

Dressed in white dinner jackets, tuxedo trousers, and plaid cumberbunds, the Delta Tau Delta fraternity quartet won the annual quartet sing. Composed of Herbert Fenske, Leonard Howard, John Hummon and John Porter, the quartet sang "Baby Face" and "Hello, My Baby." The music was styled and arranged by Hummon.

At the twenty-first annual Black and White week end, taking place between semesters, Sally Palmer was crowned queen. The dinner-dance occurred at the Arbor Hills country club. Preceding the dance was a snow party at the Cascades in Jackson.

Other social events were a costume party based on Edgar Allen Poe's "Masque of the Red Death," where guests cavorted about in 18th-century costumes typical of Poe's stories.

Five Thanksgiving baskets were distributed to needy families in Albion as a part of the fraternity's social service work in the community. Spring activities included a mothers' week end in April with a banquet, and a Delta Tau Delta State day with the other chapters. The latter included a baseball game and informal get-together afterwards.

Officers for the first semester were Noel Yaney, president; Leonard Howard, vice-president; William Cansfield, recording secretary; John Brundage, corresponding secretary, and David Valentine, treasurer. Second semester officers were Richard Swanson, president; Donald Pietz, vice-president; Harry Marson, secretary, and Noel Black, treasurer.

A huge paper-stuffed Briton ironing out a rather undernourished Alma Scot won the Sigma Chi's the Homecoming house decoration's trophy.

Preceding the Sigma Chi Sweetheart ball this year was a Roman Toga party. Albion students searching old Latin books for pictures of the Roman toga came up with some novel interpretations for costumes. The house was a picture of Roman days with couples lounging on cushions on the stone floor and eating from tables laden with grapes, figs and shrimp. Chickens roasted on a spit over a fire in the middle of the floor, while chain-laden slaves carried out the pseudo-Romans' commands.

The Fred A. Perine trophy for the fraternity showing the most scholastic improvement was won by the "Sigs." Mary Craft was named the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi for 1952-53.

Early in the second semester, at the annual parents' weekend, the mothers were initiated into the "Sigmas." Other spring activities included the annual spring formal preceded by a steak roast. A Derby Day track meet for the sororities was inaugurated on the campus this year by the "Sigs."

sigma nu

Sigma Nu's social activities began this year with the annual October Melon Feed and hayride, and an ox-roast. At Homecoming time the chapter honored returning alumni with a banquet at the house. The annual Blackfoot-Whitefoot formal dance with the ATO's at the Jackson County building completed the fall calendar.

Proving the wood-gathering ability of the Sigma Nu's, the fraternity retired the Homecoming bonfire cup, after three straight wins, and also the basketball shooting cup.

February saw a community service project launched. An entire chapter of industrious Sigma Nu's busied themselves painting and redecorating the African Methodist Episcopal Zion church of Albion.

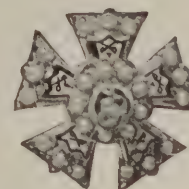

A democratic group of characters sang their way to third place in the annual interfraternity quartet sing. A bum, a policeman, a top-hatted gentleman and a street cleaner were portrayed by Ray Loeschner, David Leak, Robert Mulligan, and Alden Burns.

The body of Joseph Stalin lay in state, and peasants in hob-nailed boots filed past in an appropriately timed Russian costume party, entitled "Big Brother is Watching."

The White Star week end, May 23, at Arbor Hills Country club, and a parents' week end with a Saturday picnic and Sunday banquet with speaker, rounded out the year's events.

Officers for the year were Prosser Watts, president; David Leak, vice-president; Norman Nasson, treasurer, and Prentiss Dettman, secretary.

The Tekes, by dint of long hours of toil by the midnight oil, captured the Dean Scholarship cup, presented by Sigma Chi to the fraternity with the highest scholastic average.

Highlighting the year's social calendar was the annual winter formal. A special distinction was attached to the event this year, for the Tekes were the first to take advantage of the dancing facilities of new Baldwin hall.

At Hallowe'en a party appropriately called "Gruesome Twosome" was given. Couples dressed in the traditional ghost and goblin costumes, in addition to some less conventional monsters, flitted to and fro amongst homey graveyard decorations.

A second house party, this one entitled "Fools' Paradise" featured an assortment of costumed couples in an insane setting listening to a daffy jazz band. November 4 marked the twenty-fifth anniversary banquet, which took place in Toledo.

panhellenic council

The president and one elected representative from each of the six national sororities on campus make up the Panhellenic council. The offices rotate yearly. This year's officers were Joyce Dusendorf, president; Virginia Valentine, secretary, and Joan Christopher, treasurer, with Miss Audrey K. Wilder, advisor.

Rushing is the council's biggest job, setting up the party schedules and informal rushing periods. This year's rushing consisted of a September tea, then a round of cozies, followed by informal parties and formal parties. Spring rush was informal.

In addition to this the council recognizes the outstanding senior sorority woman of the year, awards three scholarships to Panhellenic members and sponsors the annual Panhellenic formal dance, which was entitled "Hearts in Harmony" this year.

In April the six groups on campus met for a Panhellenic workshop, to compare and help with each other's problems. This purpose of exchanging ideas among sororities is to make each sorority stronger and more workable.

interfraternity council

As the Interfraternity council was organized to act as the coordinating group in governing the activities of the six national fraternities on campus, it is composed of the president and an elected representative from each fraternity.

The annual Interfraternity ball, January 17, presented by the council in Baldwin hall, featured Buddy Morrow. Rushing was set up and carried out by the council. An IFC committee sets up rushing rules and schedules which are approved by the chapters. Both fall and spring rushing consist of one party of any kind for each fraternity. Working with an administration committee, the IFC discussed improving the health service for the college students.

First semester officers were Noel Yaney, president; Don Baker, vice-president; Robert Bollman, secretary, and Charles Wallschlaeger, treasurer. These offices were filled in the second semester by Jack Mastney, president; John Gilbert, vice-president; Herbert Fenske, secretary, and Don Baker, treasurer.

The purpose of the Crescents, Independent Women's league, is to provide an opportunity for all unaffiliated women to join in fellowship and service, to organize an athletic program and social activities for all unaffiliated women, to encourage high scholarship and to improve town and college inter-relationship by organized activities. Membership is open to all women on campus, provided that they have no sorority affiliation.

The officers were Marjorie MacMillan, president; Joan Wingeier, vice-president; Joyce Bucklin, recording secretary; Elizabeth Nicholson, corresponding secretary, and Nina Miller, treasurer. Faculty sponsors were Mrs. E. Maynard Aris, Mrs. William J. Gilbert and Mrs. Darrell H. Pollard.

Activities for the year included a Homecoming banquet for alumnae, a dinner for Mrs. Royal G. Hall, an informal party with the Independent Men's union and participation in the annual Songfest. All the activities of the Independent Women's league are planned to give unaffiliated women the opportunity to work as members of a group and as citizens in their community.

goodrich club

Charles Millar led the Goodrich club as president this year. Other officers were John Vincent, vice-president; James Grant, secretary, and Robert Wellfare, treasurer. The purpose of this club is to provide inexpensive living facilities for men attending Albion college. Their four-point aim is to foster fellowship, promote scholarship, instill cooperation and uphold reverence for Christian ideals.

Social activities for the year included a fall hayride, a Hallowe'en party and a Mustache party. Following Thanksgiving every man began his mustache, which was allowed to grow until the "Gay Nineties" party before Christmas. With a barbershop atmosphere the mustaches were judged and prizes given for the best and the most futile. A Christmas party was given for underprivileged children of Albion.

Throughout the year the Goodrich Club conducted exchange dinners with Dean Hall. On March 7, combining with the Crescents, the club presented "The Starlight Ball," at Baldwin Hall. Concluding the year's activities was a spring picnic.

Halfback Bob Wikstrom and guard Ray Loeschner, graduating seniors, leave gaps in the 1953 line-up which will be hard to fill. Wikstrom, who scored 84 points during the season to become the state's leading point-maker, was chosen most valuable player in the MIAA. Wik scored four times in the Hillsdale game to pick up 288 yards on 12 plays.

Loeschner, whose consistent toe added a point to most Briton touchdowns, was named to the Little All-America team. His number 53 jersey has been retired and joins Ed Madjeski's number 55 and Walt Ptak's number 40 in the Kresge gymnasium trophy case. Madjeski received the honor and Ptak was named to the team in 1940.

albion's champions

Guard John Porter and center Cedric Dempsey were the two big guns in Albion's 1952-53 basketball line-up. Porter, who has been leading MIAA scorer for the last two years, became the first Albion hoopster to score over 1,000 points. He attained that mark in the Hope game as he dropped in 34 points to tie the school's single game scoring record.

Dempsey snapped the single game mark on two occasions during the season. The lanky pivot man dumped in 34 points against DePauw and raised that total by four in the season finale against Michigan Normal.

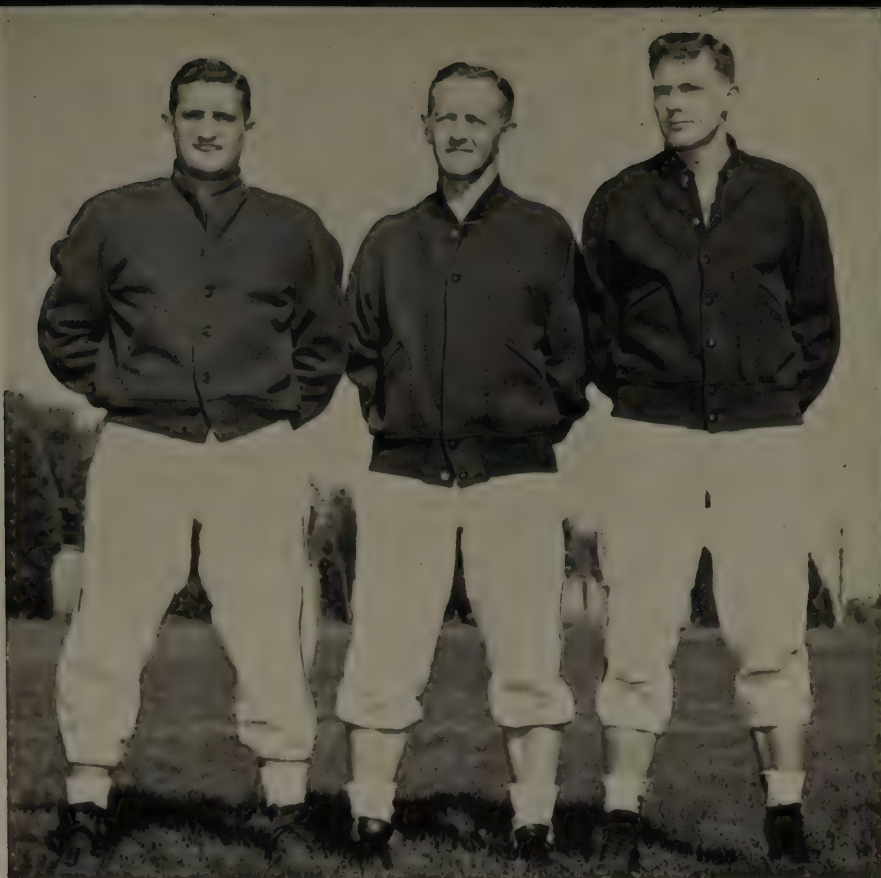

Porter and Dempsey finished second and third in league scoring this year. Porter was chosen honorary captain, and Dempsey was named the squad's most valuable player.

basketball

The 1952-53 basketball squad was responsible for several changes in the record book.

On two occasions the Britons smashed single-game scoring records. Albion's 102 points against Hillsdale replaced a record set February 21, 1951, in a contest with Hope. In that game Albion defeated the Hollanders, 101-65. One week later the Britons romped over Olivet, 103-66, to push the mark up one more notch.

Guard John Porter and center Ced Dempsey, both selections to the 1951-52 MIAA all-conference team, upped the individual scoring record.

Dempsey scored 34 points against DePauw for an all-time Albion record. Porter tied that mark against Hope, but Ced came back to match the same record against Hillsdale one game later. In the final league tilt of the season, Dempsey pushed the mark up four points as he scored 38 points against Adrian.

Albion ended the season with a 7-5 league mark. The MIAA race ended in a two-way deadlock as Kalamazoo and Hope both finished with 10-2 records. Hope edged the Hornets, 91-85, in a post season play-off.

The 1952-53 season was Coach Walter Sprandel's last as he left to take over full-time duties as dean of men. In the last 11 years under coach Sprandel, Briton teams have won 61 league contests while dropping 31 MIAA encounters.

Elkin Isaac was assistant coach and will become head mentor next season.

cross country

Albion's cross country team won its sixth consecutive MIAA crown as it defeated each of its league opponents and placed runners in the first four positions at the conference meet.

Harriers on their way.

The Britons extended their league winning streak to 35 straight victories and placed themselves in a position to tie a 20-year-old league record of seven consecutive MIAA championships which was set by Kalamazoo.

Albion took wins from Jackson junior college, Alma, Hope, Hillsdale, Adrian, Olivet, University of Chicago and University of Illinois, Chicago branch. It dropped meets to Bowling Green State university and Ohio Wesleyan.

Norm Keehn was captain of the 1952 squad. He also was chosen the team's most valuable runner. Al Nichols and Elmer Morehouse were named co-captains of the 1953 harriers. Dale Sprinkle coached the squad.

The Albion college tanksters dropped only two meets, while winning six. The swimmers took wins from University of Illinois, Chicago branch; Bay City junior college; DePauw; Ohio Wesleyan; Ontario, and Central Michigan. Albion was defeated by Beloit and Bowling Green in a triangular meet, and Niagara college.

Several school records were lowered by the Britons and visiting squads. The 400-yard free style relay team twice chopped time off the previous Albion mark. In the Ontario meet, the team composed of Dean Ward, Bill Ash, George Burkman and Tom Allen set the new mark of 3:49.5. Ash lowered his 150-yard individual medley time to 1:44.1, and Allen narrowed the 440-yard free style mark to 5:24.9.

Oakes sliced the 200-yard breaststroke to 2:45.8. Allen also lowered his 220-yard free style mark to 2:45.8.

Beloit and Bowling Green swimmers narrowed six records when they visited the Kresge gym. New times were set in the 150-yard individual medley, 200-yard backstroke, 300-yard medley relay, 50-yard freestyle, 400-yard freestyle relay and 200-yard breaststroke.

Allen was named the squad's most valuable swimmer. Dean Ward and Bill Kessel were selected co-captains of the 1953-54 team.

baseball

The Briton baseball team ended its season with a record of 10 wins and seven losses to bring coach Del Anderson's four-year coaching record to 47 victories and 17 defeats.

Albion split double-headers with each of its MIAA opponents to finish the season in a deadlock with Hillsdale for second and third place. A 1,200 mile spring trip netted the Britons three wins while they dropped two games and tied another.

Albion journeyed to Hope for its first league encounter winning the first game of a double-header, 2-1, and losing the nightcap, 4-2, after 12 innings. After a Dutchman outfielder smacked Bob Betz' first pitch for a homer, the Briton hurler tightened up and allowed only five more hits to hand Albion its first league win of the season. Ced Dempsey lost a pitching duel when Hope pushed across two runs in the fourteenth inning to break a 2-2 deadlock.

Albion dropped the first game of its double-header with Alma, 9-1, but came back strong in the second contest to win, 10-1. Dempsey pitched the second game, allowing only seven hits and one run, which came in the last frame.

The Britons split another MIAA double-header as Hillsdale romped to a 13-3 win in the opener. Albion came back in the nightcap to edge the Dales, 7-6. Freshman Jim Murray put the Britons out in front in the opening frame with a long homer.

Because of graduation and other causes the 1952 season was the last for infielders Bill Ferguson, Dick Gergle, Frank Joranko, Jim Knapp and Jim Godwin; outfielders Don Little, Arnold Pinkney and Warren Fable, and pitchers Ralph Parker, Bruce Kresge and Lou Jordon.

Non-league games gave the Britons wins over Moorehead State, Transylvania, Berea, Tri-State and Indiana Tech. They dropped tilts to Eastern Kentucky, Western Kentucky, Fort Custer and Wooster.

Warm-up practices in the spring.

After seven years of completely dominating the MIAA track scene, Albion was nosed out by Hope, 79 1/5 to 75 17/20, in the MIAA field day at Kalamazoo.

The Britons took five first places in the event as Charlie Frost won the shot put and discus. Tom McCoy took a first place in the javelin throw and Paul Stewart finished in front in the 440-yard run. Albion won the mile relay with Jim Timmons, Dick Nebel, Stewart and Jack Sharp.

Albion's long win streak was snapped at 21 meets when Wooster college of Ohio edged the Briton thinclads, 75 to 71.

Albion won each of its other meets as the Britons outran the University of Illinois, Chicago Branch, 82 1/2 to 48 1/2; University of Chicago, 75 to 57; Hope, 70 1/2 to 60 1/2; Bowling Green and Bluffton, 72 1/2 - 68 1/2 - 18, Adrian and Hillsdale, 106 1/2 - 29 1/3 - 26 1/6.

Jack Sharp was Albion's outstanding individual star as he set two new Briton records during the 1952 season. In the University of Chicago meet, the speedy senior trimmed the 100-yard dash mark to 9.9 seconds. Sharp contributed 17 1/4 points to the Albion total in the same meet as he also took first places in the 220-yard dash and broad jump, ran on the winning relay team and took a third in the high jump.

Britons out front.

In the Wooster meet, Sharp set a new Albion 440-yard record as he ran the distance in 50 seconds.

In a meet with Adrian and Hillsdale, Sharp picked up first places in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, the high jump and broad jump.

The 1952 season was the last for coach Walter Sprandel who assumed duties last fall as dean of men.

Undeclared in league competition, Albion college's 1952 golf team successfully defended its MIAA championship title for the third straight year.

The Briton squad, coached by Mr. E. Maynard Aris, won eight dual meets while dropping three. The linksters took wins from DePauw, Adrian, Kalamazoo, Tri-State, Alma, Hillsdale, Hope and the University of Illinois, Chicago branch. They were defeated by Hanover, the University of Michigan and the University of Louisville.

A new Albion scoring record was set when the squad shot an aggregate 361 against Hillsdale for an average of 72.2 per man.

Chuck Mohl and Larry French were the only 1952 golfers lost by graduation. Other members of the team were Al Nichols, Jack Lewis, Don Carmien, Ron Carstens and Jim Martin.

tennis

For the third time in as many years, Albion college's tennis team finished the MIAA season in third place.

Completing their schedule with a three-won, five-lost record, the Britons finished behind Kalamazoo and Hope. Albion scored wins over Adrian, Alma and Hillsdale while losing to Kalamazoo, DePauw, Lake Forest, Wayne and the University of Illinois, Chicago branch.

Members of the 1952 squad were George Clark, Herb Johnson, Bob Siegel, Tom Stewart and Paul Ungrodt. Mr. Joe Boyd was coach.

Siegel had the best individual record with six singles wins against four losses. He teamed with Ungrodt to net the best doubles record, 6-2.

SECOND ROW: Stewart, Siegel, Mr. Boyd, Benko; FIRST ROW: Clark, Ungrodt.

Membership is open to any college woman who fulfills the following requirements: participation in three sports, one of which must be classified as a major sport, and acceptance by the W.A.A. board. The sports they feature include hockey, out- ing, badminton, archery, bowling, basketball, volleyball, swimming, snow sports, softball, canoeing, tennis and ping-pong.
